

Grandma's Kitchen Song

Grandma's kitchen sings today,
In clinks and clanks and cheer,
The pots and pans are humming,
“Thanksgiving time is here!”

The oven hums a gentle tune
The spoons keep steady beat,
The timer rings a jingly bell
For all the food we'll eat.

But best of all is not the feast
Or every tasty bite,
It's being in her kitchen
Where everything feels right.
